Local Doctor of Chiropractic Receives Prestigious International Award

Your local chiropractor, Dr. Wade A. Lofton, of LifeForce Family Chiropractic (LFFC) was recently awarded a prestigious international award for his dedicated work in chiropractic and the results patients at LFFC have seen after receiving neurological-based adjustments.

Dr. Lofton was chosen out of more than 100,000 Doctor's of Chiropractic in 92 countries as Chiropractor of the Month for November 2010 by the Chiropractic Leadership Alliance (CLA), a premier organization that recognizes excellence in the commitment of chiropractors to the public as well as the chiropractic profession in advancing wellness.

"It is a blessing and an honor to receive this worldwide award," Dr. Lofton said. "It definitely shows me that others are noticing us and seeing our results. We are cutting edge and we get results; that is why people travel from around the country to see us."

The CLA lauds Dr. Lofton and the staff at LFFC for their focused commitment to providing the highest quality chiropractic care possible to the community. The CLA cites LFFC's use of the latest high-tech assessment equipment called the Insight Subluxation Station to help patients understand the benefits of regular chiropractic care in achieving overall wellness.

"Our heart is in serving people," Dr. Lofton said. "We care for everyone and with help from God we expect amazing results."

Subluxation and what we do

For the last five years, LifeForce Family Chiropractic has been one of the few doctor's offices in the state specializing in the Torque Release Technique, a powerful neurological-based method used to help people get off pain medications, overcome addictions, depression, anxiety and stress – improving their overall well-being and the performance of their bodies.

Subluxation occurs when one or more of the bones of your spine moves out of position and alters the frequency of the nerve tissue, resulting in an interference in the vital information being carried over your nerve system between your brain and body.

This affects you, because the nervous system controls and coordinates all the functions of your body – including your immune system – and when there is nerve interference it causes your body to stop working properly. When you leave subluxation in your body, you may not notice anything at first even though the messages sent between the brain and the body are being interfered with and/or shut off. Eventually, the part of the body that is directly affected by the area that is interfered with will be in a state of dis-ease, which can lead to any number of health problems.

Since the nervous system has a direct effect on the immune system, and because the spine houses and protects so much of the nerve system, it is important to have your spine checked for any interference. After the nerve interference is identified, regular neurological-based adjustments will retrain your nervous system and reduce stress on your body.

No matter how stress is affecting your well-being, neurological-based adjustments will remove the nerve interference in the nervous system that is caused by stress, in turn adding life to your body. When the nerve interference is removed, your body will be working and functioning more optimally.

The key is the extra energy your body puts out, and after neurological-based adjustments, that energy is freed up so your body can function at a higher level, and research shows, that symptoms of stress – such as sleeplessness, headaches, stuttering, pain and many other symptoms – will clear up.

By adjusting you, the doctors at LifeForce Family Chiropractic don't fix the headaches, the stutter, or the pain; your body did because it has been programmed to know how to heal itself.

The question you need to ask yourself is this: Do you have symptoms like pain, headaches, high blood pressure, depression and addictions? Are you taking prescription medications?

If so, then you are a perfect candidate for neurological-based chiropractic, which will help your body to heal from these symptoms and many more that plague people and create sickness and disease in the world today.

What are you waiting for? The results speak for themselves. Come to LFFC and experience the results for yourself!

Testimonials

I've been coming to LifeForce Family Chiropractic for just over a month. I'm grateful to say that I'm experiencing a lot of improvement in such a short period of time.

The first thing I noticed right away is that I'm more relaxed and I can sleep better. I also had problems with depression and anxiety in the past, but since coming to LifeForce I feel so much better emotionally and I have more energy. I am slowly decreasing my dosage for the drug paxil and I plan on being off the medication in the next few months. A month ago, I would have never thought this was possible and I could be drug free.

My neck and upper back pain is almost 100% gone and I no longer take ibuprofen everyday. I have not felt this good in over 10 years.

I appreciate how Dr. Lofton uses a combination of Chiropractic and Prayer. Having a strong faith in God is so important in healing and I am really thankful for Dr. Lofton and his staff. Thanks for all the help, care, and kindness that you give everyday.

My whole family's lives have been transformed through seeing the Doctors at LifeForce Family Chiropractic. My wife no longer suffers with pain, inability to turn her neck, menstrual problems, and inability to sleep. When we thought we needed a new bed, we are blessed to say that God lead us to LFFC where they got to the cause of the problem. Our Son has suffered from Chronic Migraines that prevented him from even going to work and I can say they are completely gone. I myself, was unable to raise my left arm and had pain in the shoulder and all the way down the arm along with left knee pain. All the pain that I had is not only gone, but I feel so much healthier, especially since Dr. Lofton and his staff was able to help me stop smoking in 3 days after being addicted to nicotine for 46 years.
